DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Acknowledgment is made of applicant's claim for foreign priority under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d). The certified copy has been filed in PCT/JP2005/2571, filed on 2/18/2005.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on 7/18/2006 complies with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

5. Claims 1-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tezuka (2006/0021098) in view of Kikuta et al (2002/0057015 or 6,577,024).

With respect to the claims, the publication to Tezuka discloses a method and apparatus for detecting welding of a relay contact comprising a power source 10, a boosting means 15, a relay circuit 13, an abnormality detecting means 22, and a relay controlling means 21 for limiting relay welding. Whereas, the claims recite a boosting means in such a way as recited in the specification. However, the publication/patent to Kikuta et al discloses an electric power steering control system comprising a boosting means<sup>17</sup> for discharging/charging a capacitor 3. Prima facie case is made that the precharge relay 13 of Tezuka produces the same discharging/charging function as Kikuta et al's element 17. Knowing the use of a relay or a electronic switch is an alternative substitution of one for the other, since Tezuka and Kikuta et al both designed to prevent relay welding, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Tezuka with the means 17 as taught or suggested by Kikuta et al.
